A large, textured pumpkin with a dark stem, set against a warm, orange background. The pumpkin's surface is covered in a complex, organic pattern of ridges and grooves, giving it a weathered or carved appearance. The lighting is soft and directional, coming from the upper left, which highlights the ridges and casts gentle shadows in the grooves, emphasizing its three-dimensional form. The background is a solid, warm orange color, creating a monochromatic and autumnal atmosphere. The pumpkin is positioned slightly off-center, with its stem pointing towards the top right corner of the frame.
